

| ART |

Art Attack: Mopping Up at MoP, and Other New Shows

SUSAN FROYD | MARCH 15, 2023 | 4:46PM

Ice, Ice baby: Meet ice sculptor Lizzie Bougatsos at two Dikeou Collection locations. Lizzie Bougatsos, Dikeou Collection

Lizzi Bougatsos: The State of Amerikkka

Dikeou Collection, 1615 California Street, fifth floor

Friday, March 17, 6 to 8 p.m.

Lizzi Bougatsos: Black is the color of my true love's hair

Dikeou Pop-up: Colfax, 312 East Colfax Avenue

Monday, March 20, 6 to 8 p.m.

Ice carver and cultural polymath Lizzi Bougatsos graces the Dikeou Collection Friday with her 2021 ephemeral artwork The State of Amerikkka, a comment on the effects of colonialization on American Indigenous people using tobacco as a symbolic marker. Bougatsos, who is also a vocalist and drummer in the New York bands Gang Gang Dance, Angelblood and IUD, pops up again on Monday, March 20, at Dikeou's pop-up location on Colfax Avenue to perform noise music inspired by avant-garde '60s vocalist Patty Waters. A second ice sculpture, this one a self-portrait, will be on view for the evening.